Connexions was a UK governmental information, advice, guidance and support service for young people aged 13 to 19, created in 2000 following the Learning and Skills Act. There were Connexions Centres around the country – usually several in each county – which offered support and advice on topics including education, housing, health, relationships, drugs and finance. Since 2012, Connexions has not been a coherent national service, following changes to the delivery of careers in England ...
