Mission Accomplished Long 3 6 3. Motivation The third important element of the Vaughan Method is motivation. Our "Mission" is to ensure that students get the most out of every second of the class, in addition to their time outside the classroom. One of the main ways we keep students motivated is by showing them the progress they have made.

The Mission Accomplished speech (named for a banner displayed above the speaker) was a televised address by United States President George W. Bush on the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln on May 1, 2003.. Although Bush stated at the time "Our mission continues" and "We have difficult work to do in Iraq," he also stated it was the end to major combat operations in Iraq.

Mission Accomplished speech - Wikipedia

The crew accomplished the main objectives of the mission: completing the return-to-flight objectives by flying an improved external tank and testing on-orbit shuttle repair procedures, and preparing the International Space Station for future assembly. The astronauts made their customary inspection walk around the orbiter and lined up for photos.
