Radiology Case Review Series: Brain Imaging by Chang Ho ...

This is an excellent case review book for Neuroradiology. It has appropriate "Easy" cases for the beginner Radiology resident and gradually works up to more advanced Fellowship level cases. This is a good review that provides a different spin on high yield topics which make it easier to review. I also like the format of the cases, 1 case per page, which makes it easier not to peak at the answer to next case while you're reviewing one case. I found this complimentary to the Radcases case ...
